

ARREST TWO, HALT $30,000 GEM THEFT

Newark Police Cause Uproar Before Jewelry Store in Busy Street.

GOT ON TRAIL OF THIEVES

Detectives Heard Plans to Scatter Gunpowder in Store to Cause Panic.

Thousands of persons in Springfield avenue, Newark, one of the busiest sections of the city, were thrown into an uproar at 10 o'clock last night when three shots were fired in the air and a dozen detectives jammed their revolvers against two men who, according to the police, were about to rob a jewelry store of $30,000 worth of unset diamonds.

The prisoners said they were Eugene Mueller, 49, of 138 Northeast Sixteenth street, Miami, Fla., and George Davis, 39, of Broad street, Columbus, Ga. Mueller, who is a jeweler, is said to have admitted to Captain of Detectives Frank Brex that he has served terms in prison in Trenton and Philadelphia for diamond robberies. Mueller and Davis were locked up charged with conspiracy to rob.

Mueller and Davis had been trailed by the police since Wednesday, when detectives saw them eating together in a restaurant and apparently planning something. From the restaurant they went to the jewelry store of Norman K. Enrich, 23 Springfield avenue, and looked for a long time at the diamonds in the window.

From the store the detectives trailed them to a hotel. A telephone was installed in the room next to theirs and detectives listened to the planning of the robbery. It was agreed, according to detectives, that at 10 o'clock Mueller was to enter the store and ask to see some unset diamonds. He was to scatter some gunpowder on the floor and then drop a match. During the blaze and the ensuing excitement he was to grab the diamonds and escape.

Detectives trailed Mueller and Davis from the hotel last night, watched them eat dinner together and then followed them to the jewelry store. The two stood in front and looked through the windows for a few minutes. Then Mueller approached the door. Just as his hand closed on the knob three shots were fired in the air. That was the signal for their arrest, and a dozen plain clothes men immediately closed in on Mueller and Davis.

The shots brought hundreds from the streets, and uniformed police were called out to make a lane through which the men could be taken to the patrol wagon. Mueller, according to detectives, said he picked up Davis in Georgia three weeks ago and decided to make a good diamond robber of him.

Do Your Feet Increase Your Income?

No, that isn't a far-fetched question. There is an intimate relation between your feet and your pocketbook.

Ask hundreds of workers in every field who have found that comfortable Cantilever Shoes increase their efficiency. Increased efficiency means greater earning power—the capacity to add the third dimension to your pocketbook—that of "lay-by," where heretofore there may have been only the two dimensions of "income" and "outgo." Recreation, too, plays a large part in your earning power. If you are too tired from your day's work to do anything but drop into a chair or crawl into bed and sleep, you miss the pleasures that re-creates you—that build strength, reserve energy and the contagious enthusiasm necessary for success in any line of work. The increases your earning ability by taking your mind off your feet and allowing you to give your undivided attention to the work at hand. Feet that hurt slow down the wheels of efficiency.

The arch of the foot supports the body when standing and acts as a lever to raise and propel it when walking. Cantilever Shoes are made with an arch that conforms to the shape of the foot and flexes with every motion, thus continually exercising the muscles and ligaments and keeping them strong—just as nature intended they should always be. The neat rounded toe gives sufficient room for comfort, yet is stylish, while the medium or low heel correctly places the body's weight. Let Cantilever Shoes increase your accuracy, speed and all-around efficiency. Tomorrow you can drop into a Cantilever store and select a pair that pleases your taste and fits both your feet and your pocketbook. Widths AAAA to E.

Fires Pistol to Amuse Children and Is Jailed

THE police think it was "smoke," as Bronx bootleg whiskey now is dubbed, that caused Frederick Greenwald, 34 years old, who lives at 194 Carroll street, The Bronx, describes himself as a private detective. Yesterday Policeman Finn of the Morrisania station saw him stagger up to the curb on Brook avenue near 156th street, draw a revolver and fire three shots in the air over the heads of several children playing in the street. The policeman overpowered him after a struggle. Greenwald said he fired the shots just for the fun of it and to provide a little free entertainment for the children. A small bottle containing "spoke," the police said, was found in one of his pockets.

CRUISER'S NEW OWNER IS MISSING THREE DAYS

Long Beach Salesman Sails for New York Alone.

Anxiety is felt by friends over the continued absence of Thomas H. Batchelor, aged 45, salesman, who left Springfield last Wednesday morning for New York in a thirty foot cruiser, the Comfort, which he had purchased the day before.

His partner in the ownership of the boat, Gail Hamilton, who has offices at 50 Church street, said last night that Batchelor's wife, who lives at 119 West Fulton street, Long Beach, had not heard from him.

Batchelor was last heard from at Saybrook, Conn., where his pilot left him to his own devices in the run down the Sound.

BISHOPS BELITTLE DR. GRANT'S ATTACK

Dr. William T. Manning Remarks, 'I See He Is Breaking Out Again.'

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 2.—Bishops of the Episcopal Church to-day mingled discussion of matters to come before the General Convention here next week with comment on press dispatches carrying a statement by the Rev. Dr. Percy Sticley Grant, rector of the Church of the Ascension of New York city, on the divorce laws of the church.

Bishop William T. Manning of New York remarked: "I see Grant's been breaking out again." He would make up further comment on the situation in reference to Dr. Grant than to say that his position was well understood in New York.

It is doubtful whether the Episcopal convention will attempt to enact laws laying a more rigid ban than now exists in the church upon the remarriage of divorced persons, according to an opinion of Bishop James Wise of Topeka, head of the Diocese of Kansas, regarding Dr. Grant's statement. Also it is equally doubtful, in the opinion of Bishop Wise that the convention will adopt measures which will make more liberal conditions for divorced persons who wish to marry.

"At present the church permits remarriage after divorce, only to the innocent party to whom divorce has been granted on grounds of infidelity," he said. "There is within the church a group that favors making still more rigid restrictions and forbidding marriage of any divorced person, regardless of the cause."

"In the past ten years this group has shown considerable increase in strength, though it is not strong enough to enforce its position."

"The question came up at the last convention—and will come up probably at every convention indefinitely—but if the public thinks that it is the clergy alone that is taking a rigid stand on the matter, it should be remembered that the laymen in the House of Deputies were, if anything, more determined in their position not to throw down the bars than were the bishops."

The declaration of Dr. Grant was not taken very seriously by the most of the bishops present, if the current of conversation in the lobby of the auditorium, where the bishops are holding informal conference, could be considered as an indication.

Morristown and the First Telegraph

MORRISTOWN, N. J., on the Lackawanna Railroad, may properly be spoken of as the birth-place of the electric telegraph. The basic idea came to Morse on the Atlantic Ocean and he made his first crude machines in New York, but it was at the old Speedwell Iron Works at Morristown that the first practical apparatus was perfected.

Here in January 1838, in association with Stephen and Alfred Vail, Morse gave public exhibitions that convinced a doubting world that another epoch-making invention had been made. "What Hath God Wrought,"

(... ..) the historic message flashed from Washington to Baltimore, May 24th, 1844, was but a confirmation and fulfillment of the Morristown experiments.

The railroad and the telegraph have grown up together. Without the magic of the electric key, the complicated despatching and control of trains, as we know them to-day, would not be possible.

The Lackawanna Railroad, which has always been particularly interested in this phase of transportation work, in recent years has obtained many important results in connection with wireless communications to and from moving trains. The first trains in the world to carry wireless telegraph and wireless telephone facilities have been on the Lackawanna. Radio concerts are now a regular feature on the Buffalo Limited and the New York Limited. These and other major pioneer developments help to make the Lackawanna "Mile for mile the most highly developed railroad in America."
